

Why partner with Volunteering Queensland?

Who are Volunteering Queensland?

As the state peak body, we have been leading volunteering in Queensland for 40 years. We work with the volunteering industry day in, day out, supporting our 300+ members, and working with many of the 6,000+ Queensland charities that engage volunteers, and the 3 million Queenslanders who volunteer.

Volunteering Queensland has a long-standing reputation for education excellence. We have been a Registered Training Organisation for more than 26 years. Our experienced team prides ourselves in providing you with dedicated, personalised, and meaningful contact to help you successfully deliver Active Volunteering qualifications and courses within your school.

Accredited Qualifications

Volunteering Queensland offers the following nationally recognised Vocational Education and Training (VET) qualifications:

- CHC14015 Certificate I in Active Volunteering
- CHC24105 Certificate II in Active Volunteering
- CHC34015 Certificate III in Active Volunteering

The Certificates I, II and III in Active Volunteering have been offered in schools since 2009, receiving resounding positive feedback. The impact of our programs on students, schools and their communities has been significant.

Units of competency

Volunteering Queensland offers a non-accredited course to students who are seeking an understanding of volunteering in a less formal setting than completion of an accredited qualification.

Students complete a variety of activities that include a strong focus on volunteering – allowing them to experience of sense of belonging in their local communities.

Students receive a Certificate of Participation for undertaking any of the topics within the course.

Achievements of Active Volunteering

300+ schools

have participated from metropolitan, regional, and remote areas.

1000 Non-profits

are approved to help your school place students into diverse, rewarding volunteering opportunities.

16,000+ students have received a qualification through Volunteering Queensland

All students gained skills that can guide them to become tomorrow's leaders and lifelong volunteers.

Student engagement

All Saints Anglican School Student, Yori, volunteering at UniSport Australia as part of the CHC34015 Certificate III in Active Volunteering.

Testimonials

“We have thoroughly enjoyed being involved in the Active Volunteering course. The students have gained immensely from their involvement, their confidence and shyness has improved, and they have experienced the rewards of giving back. We will be enrolling students next year.”

~ Marie Coppolaro, Teacher, Brisbane Bayside State College

“Volunteering has helped me realise what I like doing and it has changed me for the better.”

~ Student from Bray Park State High School

Brisbane Bayside State College

Cameron Wesche from Gin Gin State High School, Karen McCord from Bundaberg State High School and Bundaberg Region Mayor Jack Dempsey.

“Volunteering has pushed me out of my comfort zone and provided me with transferable skills.”

~ Student from Parklands Christian College

“We know that volunteering helps in developing strong relationships and connections to the community, but also provides a range of both social and economic benefits to a community.”

We see it as not only a feel-good thing to do, but also a great way to build resilience and life skills for future community participation, employment and life after school.”

~ Jack Dempsey, Bundaberg Region Mayor

Community connection

RACQ Capricorn Helicopter Rescue (Cap Rescue) partnered with Tannum Sands High School to provide students completing a CHC24015 Certificate II in Active Volunteering an opportunity to volunteer with their organisation.

Students completed a virtual induction/orientation with their volunteer coordinators and have undertaken several volunteer activities including collection of donation boxes, creating social media content and advertising Cap Rescue events at school.

The student volunteers assisted staff at events based in the Gladstone region including Colour Me Capricorn Gladstone.
